OUR VALUES

We strive to live our values every day and incorporate them into our work.

WE DELIVER HIGH IMPACT PHILANTHROPY

We invite and encourage new ideas, pioneering practices, and original methods. We provide a forum for people to connect and exchange ideas and explore perspectives that can change the conversation and achieve high-impact philanthropy for the community good. We channel donor funds to the most impactful institutions – from a refugee human service organization in Istanbul, to the small but mighty education NGO in Samsun, and to the local community foundation in Nevada. Each donor's individual contribution adds up to our collective impact.

WE PROMOTE A CULTURE OF COLLABORATION

We believe that doing this work together will allow us to create a community that collaborates, honors each other's voices, and uses innovative approaches to address the immediate needs in our communities. We know that we are more powerful when we work together. We mobilize our donors and partners to get involved in ways never possible before so that the impact of their philanthropy can reach well beyond to create sustained and lasting change for generations.

WE PRIDE OURSELVES ON TRACEABLE ACCOUNTABILITY

Accountability has been our priority since day one. Our donor services and grantmaking are high-touch and highly tailored which enables donors' to trace the full journey of their contributions. We are organized to provide donors with a wealth of expertise in handling the most complex types of transactions, all conducted according to sound business principles, and with the highest levels of transparency, privacy and integrity. We are committed to showing how every donation is used and hold our partner organizations on the ground to the same high standards.

WE POWER CHARGE YOUR LEGACY

We work towards building a better future and a legacy of giving for our donors individually and for the Turkish-American community at large. Our donor community has access to tools to create and tell their own stories that demonstrate what matters most to them with their gifts. We couldn't be more proud that we have created a highly impactful community of philanthropists who are implementing their positive visions and hopes for society and community through TPF.

Leadership Letter

Dear Donors, Partners, and Friends,

We would like to start our letter in gratitude: Our gratitude to the Founders Circle of TPF whose initial leadership and fortitude brings us to this moment; to our Founders Society members who continuously create a path for others to follow; to the members of our dedicated board who lend their diverse talents and resources to help grow TPF; to our partners on the ground, who seek to address local problems with unique solutions; to leaders in philanthropy such as Haldun Tashman and Hamdi Ulukaya whose invocation lifts our sights and our souls; and to each one of you for trusting TPF.

Turkish Philanthropy Funds was founded 15 years ago thanks to the vision of an energetic and generous group of individuals. Those visionaries saw the impact that community foundations had here at home in the US, and wanted to give back to their roots in Türkiye. The ideals they encompass, became a beacon to TPF: equality in education; tolerance and inclusion; closing the gender gap; investing in social and economic development; coming together after disasters; and making strategic philanthropy a center part of our community's giving. And, their vision grew into a donor community of more than 10,000 people. We now bring together the financial resources of families, individuals and organizations who care about Türkiye and our communities in the US and then invest those resources back into the community.

In this report, we honor those legacies.
We rededicate everything we have done over the 15 years to you— and for you, and with you—in recognition of your contributions. We are honored that we can help you envision — and then build — your long-term legacy. We work to identify the best way to carry out your philanthropic goals, and then we leverage all available tools to make those goals a reality. In the giving stories of Fügen Neziroğlu, Ahmet Öztürk, Seray İncoğlu you will read how their giving is rooted in family values and guides each and every of their actions with intention.

Our personal touch and customized giving guidance make TPF one of a kind. We offer you a personalized level of service tailored to your needs. Depending on your passions, we work with you to create a donor advised fund, put together an estate plan, designate a fund to provide ongoing support to your favorite charity, or establish a field of interest fund to provide support to an area dear to your heart. Seray İncoglu's story is a case in point. Our deep understanding and knowledge of organizations and issues in Türkiye allowed us to provide personalized recommendations that align with Seray's interests. The outcome is the establishment of a new program with Çağdaş Yaşamı Destekleme Derneği to teach mindfulness to young people.

More than anything, this year reinforced the power of donor-advised funds to serve as a ready-reserve for philanthropy during times of crisis. With funds already committed to giving — now at 42 — TPF donors were able to respond quickly to pandemic-related needs—but they also maintained giving for the causes and organizations they normally support. This consistent funding was vital to our response to community needs this year, as many nonprofits faced declining revenue streams even as demand for their services increased.

As disruptive as the last two years have been, the shift to digital events gave us a new way to connect to our community. We continue to bring our donor community together through events like Voices of Partners that discuss the emerging and changing social needs and solutions. This year we hosted 11 Voices of Partners.

Our grantmaking results were remarkable in and of themselves - we gave $2.9 million in grants this year, and have now reached total grantmaking of more than $28 million since 2007. Education, especially to empower young women, remains our biggest area of grantmaking and donor support. TPF is involved in a range of areas – from teacher development to specialized higher education scholarships and leadership training for young women. We are particularly proud of the Zehra Taşman Women and Education Support Program harnessing the power of mentoring and role models to encourage young women to take on leadership positions.

It was a year unlike any other, and we are honored to be part of our community's extraordinary movement of generosity. Since our mission is encouraging and supporting philanthropy in our community, whether you choose to give to us, or through us to another organization, we cherish the opportunity to be helping you achieve your charitable giving goals. We are honored that four families have joined TPF's Founders Society this year - The Bilimers, The Gülçeliks, The Özbellis and The Özmens. Their generous support of TPF enables us to make a real difference every day for our communities. We are grateful for the wealth of experience and commitment they bring to our work.

As we look ahead to recover and rebuild from this pandemic, we remain steadfast in our commitment to provide our communiy with the tools and guidance they need to be effective philanthropists. And, as we celebrate TPF's 15th anniversary, we are more committed than ever to making smarter charitable giving attainable, simple, and effective. We are thankful for your partnership, trust and continued investment of time, talent and treasure. Together, we will create a stronger foundation and continue on building on the giving legacy of our community.

With Deepest Appreciation and Gratitude,

Mehmet Lütfi Kırdar

AMPLIFYING LEGACIES

What mark do you want to leave on the world?

What are the values that drive you?

What matters most? Whether it's your time, talent, or funds, giving back can be one of life's greatest rewards.

Today, we are no longer dependent on large institutions to drive positive social change, nor do we have to wait until we are white-haired and wealthy to start giving back. There are countless opportunities. The key is identifying the ones that align most with your personal goals. TPF guides you and helps you transform the lives of others, as well as amplifying your personal LEGACY.

THE GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING

According to a study by Harvard Business School Professor, Michael Norton, the act of giving or spending money for the benefit of others is more likely to boost your happiness levels than when you spend for the benefit of yourself.

CONTINUING ON YOUR FAMILY'S LEGACY

A Giving Story of Fügen Neziroğlu

When Nezahat Neziroğlu passed away two years ago, her daughter, Fügen, wanted to find an organization that will assist her and her sister with donations that honors her late mother. Since she was familiar with the work of TPF and enjoyed working with the team there, she reached out to identify programs that will continue to fulfill her mother's dream of building a pathway to higher education for female students. She believes TPF has so many avenues and connections that make the joy of giving easy. "Whatever your passion is, there is an organization that they work with that can fit your interest. It is a unique organization in that it is like an octopus with so many hands out in many diverse directions. Their programs are varied, and they can fit the need of many people," she notes. She knew TPF was the right partner.

When Fügen was growing up, she experienced her parents supporting two new students every year from their community. Their contributions enabled those students to continue their education from middle-school through college, making sure they were not held back from their dreams due to financial burdens. Fügen believes observing her parents giving back so generously to their community and experiencing the joy it brought to her family made her the person she is today. "Ever since I can remember, my parents were giving to others. They strongly supported Turkish causes, primarily education and particularly young disadvantaged children. They helped support the education of many children over the years." Fügen recalls how both of her parents always asked her, 'If something happens to us, will you continue the support to the children we are supporting?' For Fügen continuing the support was a no question. She was taught early on the importance of education, especially equal and quality education, and continuing her family's legacy through investing in education was already something she planned to do. After her mother passed away as she reminisced on her childhood, she once again saw the impact and importance of her family's generosity, and was determined to carry out her family's legacy.

Dr. Fügen Neziroğlu is a behavior and cognitive psychologist, and a leading researcher on anxiety disorders. Fügen sees her own professional and personal journey so intertwined with philanthropy. She received the prestigious lifetime achievement award from the International Obsessive Compulsive Disorder Foundation (IOCDF) in 2016. She calls the award philanthropic because she has devoted many hours weekly to research without funding. "My mission is to alleviate the suffering of others within my capacity and to promote caring and compassion for others," she says. And, that is very visible in all of her actions in life. "My journey is based on my difficulty dealing with vulnerability and my need to alleviate it. If we are deprived of the basics of life: shelter, food, and water and lack basic opportunities like health and education, then we are vulnerable. When we are vulnerable, we cannot fend for ourselves, and it is hard to create a loving, kind society/universe when basic needs are not met," she adds when discussing her philanthropic journey. Today Fügen gives scholarships to three students, two of which are students her parents were supporting. She also partners with TPF to support a number of projects honoring her later mother's dream and legacy, including a women empowerment program and a relief fund for refugees. Her help in educating children in Türkiye and carrying on her parents' legacy has been a complement to everything she has done in her life. "The knowledge that they can succeed and pursue their dreams when otherwise they might not have been extremely gratifying," she notes.

Fügen cannot think of giving up the meaningful work her parents had done, the opportunities they created for others, and the values they taught her and her sister, Tijen. Those acts of kindness became who she is. Her parents' stories are now combined with her own - her mother volunteering her time and her father creating opportunities for others who did not have them. "I firmly believe that giving a gift to others, to one's community makes for a better universe." And, she cannot think of any other way to live her life.

Nezahat and Fügen Neziroğlu

PAYING IT FORWARD

A Giving Story of Ahmet and Melike Öztürk

Seven years ago, as Ahmet and Melike Öztürk prepared to embark on a journey as first-time parents, they started thinking of the legacy they will leave behind to their son. Their son's birth helped them reflect on how fortunate they are, and they started thinking about how they can share that with others. "As we welcomed our son, my wife and I realized that we wanted to be remembered as philanthropists who have supported countless nonprofits through generous gifts, board service, and a heartfelt belief in the importance of the community."

The Öztürks knew from the beginning that they wanted to give to causes in their homeland, Türkiye, and education rose as the issue they are the most passionate about. The couple believes that a quality education is a key driver in economic competitiveness and an essential ingredient in enhancing the overall quality of life. Additionally, as they look at their life, they realized how fortunate they have been to have the opportunity of receiving a quality education. Throughout their education, the pursuit of knowledge has helped them better understand the world as a complex and often inequitable place. Believing that all students deserve to benefit from the opportunities that a world-class education can provide, they started looking for educational programs to support in Türkiye. In a newsletter of Darüşşafaka Society, they learned that they can give directly to Darüşşafaka Society and many other organizations in Türkiye through TPF while getting a tax-deduction in the U.S. "Turkish Philanthropy Funds made giving directly to Darüşşafaka and causes that matter to us so easy for us," Ahmet stated, and added "it also provided us with more opportunities to maximize our gifts and see our impact. Thanks to TPF, we discovered that we could give significantly without affecting our daily standard of living," Ahmet said.

For the Öztürks reading the impact of their donations in their first impact letter for a gift to Darüşşafaka left them with an incredible feeling that is beyond happiness. Knowing that their small act of kindness made a life-long impact on one child's life is a feeling, Ahmet said, "something we will cherish forever. It is moments like those that keep us certain that something as simple as making a donation can become so much more than that. It can become a dream come true for someone, and that is really powerful." The Öztürks are now sharing these messages with their kids who they hope will use their good fortune to benefit others as well, and add to the legacy they hope to leave behind.

The Öztürk's never wanted to share their giving publicly. "It is not the reason we began giving back, but I hope this story will inspire others to give back. We hope our story can help inspire others, who perhaps like us know they want to use their good fortune to benefit others but are not quite sure where or how to begin," Ahmet said.

When looking at the impact of the Öztürks, it's clear that they exemplify the very best in community leadership, philanthropy, and dedication to creating a better world for all.

The Öztürk Family

BECOME A DONOR AND MAKE IT COUNT.

Over the years, we have proven that we can make a powerful impact when we come together. One of the hardest parts about practicing philanthropy is staying focused. There are many worthy causes, but you will be most impactful when you hone in on the issues you truly care about. When passion and philanthropy align, the act of giving becomes more than a gesture or transaction — it becomes a reflection of who you are and the world you hope to create. Whatever your passion is, we can connect your charitable dollars with well-managed, effective organizations doing work that makes a difference.

The Özbelli Family

"Helping people and lifting up those in need has always been an important principle in my family. My father was a doctor and often would provide free treatment to those in need and help to provide scholarships to students through various charities. My mother always supported those in our community by organizing charity events and dedicating her time. They both worked on school boards and served to better people's lives daily. I began my school years, taking an active role in charities.

For the past 38 years, I have lived and worked in the U.S., building my business. In these years, I have come to know Mr. Haldun Tashman and the beginnings of TPF and watched them grow successfully over the past 15 years. My wife and I have been active in our community and continue to give our time and donations toward good causes. We decided to begin giving back in a more organized way, and working with TPF was a clear choice. We chose TPF because its values are parallel to ours. TPF works to unite donors like us with vetted partners, ensuring donation funds are well spent for specific needs. TPF's commitment to the communities and causes in need is well-proven. We are very happy to be a part of the TPF Founders Society. I owe a lot to a few mentors who took their time, worked with me, and helped shape me into who I am today. I like to do the same by using what I have to better and help those in need, leave a good impact, and hope they continue to do the same in their community. We believe lifting other's life will not only prosper the individual but the community as well. We advise our children to donate their time to their community; they have done so in school and in professional life. We hope they will continue to give back to others and be active in their communities as they start their families. TPF is helping us achieve these goals, and we look forward to working together for many years."

Halit Özbelli, Founders Society Member

BOĞAZİÇİ AUTISM GIVING CIRCLE

Autism can present many challenges to a child's daily life. In particular, it can impact how they engage with their learning at school. Boğaziçi Autism Giving Circle believes in the positive impact of an integrated personal training system to overcome obstacles for children with autism spectrum. With this mission in mind and under the leadership of Uğur Aksu, many came together to generate funds to give a voice to children with autism in Türkiye. In May of 2022, the giving circle raised $164,324 to go toward Boğaziçi Hope, Youth, and Sports Club Association (Boğaziçi Autism School) which runs a school for children with autism in Istanbul.

Hulusi Zafer Ecevit, Marz Attar, and Haldun Tashman

To connect, share, and give are all in everyone's true nature. Those granted these privileges are responsible for accessing our true nature through self-inquiry. It is part of our urge for self-discovery that we come to see where the true joy and happiness lies, within the heart with a peaceful mind. The genuine inquiry for our community is not about giving or not giving or how much to give; these are not our communal questions. The true inquiry in this moment of the urgent global crisis is how to be effective; to discover the roots and provide the needed water to nourish and grow; to see the urgency of collaboration; to activate ourselves in responding to realities we are facing with kindness and mercy; to always stay forward-looking with the help of understanding how nature works through science; imagining generation after generations of playful, innocent children needing the essential resources and peace. . . .

The TPF community has been growing its leaders from within, serving the larger communities inside and outside of Türkiye It embodies the ground-up principles of community building, with loving attention to immediate urgent needs as well as systemic well-researched approaches to empower communities for self-care and holistic growth, as I personally experienced in our Keller Fund project supporting the teachers' needs for education, connection, and self-care. TPF community is also serving the needs of those of us who need help with a trusted institution to actualize our altruistic intentions efficiently and with clarity. I am in awe at what TPF has accomplished in 15 short years."

SENA'S VISION COMING TO LIFE

Sena Eken Schieber was a role model for many women. She saw the future filled with successful women making a difference in industries often run by men. Sena herself was a part of those changes she aspired to see. After graduating from Robert College, she did her graduate studies in England and received her Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Pittsburgh. She began her career at the International Monetary Fund (IMF), where she later became the Assistant Director. This was the highest-ranked position held by a Turkish employee in the history of the institution. Sena made a difference for women in economics throughout her career, but she also left a mark everywhere she went. She is remembered as vibrant, caring, and courageous. Her accomplishments as a woman in economics paved the way for other women in the field, women at IMF, and for Turkish nationals, and Turkish women carrying on careers in foreign institutions and in Türkiye. Her legacy lives on through the intelligent and driven women who received the Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award since 2015. The accomplishments of these women are a testament to Sena's vision of how giving young Turkish women an opportunity to study in the U.S. can provide them with the tools for furthering their careers.

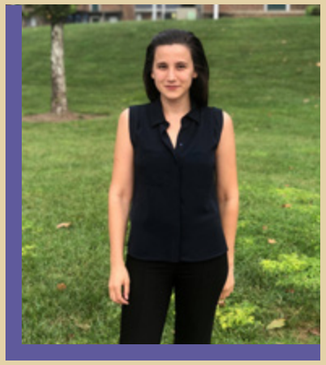

Sena's husband, George Schieber, is the visionary behind the Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award. He met Sena Eken in 1976 when she was a graduate student in Pittsburgh. When Sena passed away in 2014, he wanted to keep her legacy alive, and creating this award was the best way to honor Sena. The award was initiated in 2015 with Turkish Philanthropy Funds in Sena's memory to provide the opportunities she held dear to her personal development and success in life.

The award works toward granting scholarships to successful women from Türkiye who have been admitted to graduate programs for a Master's or Ph.D. degree in Economics at an accredited school in the U.S. The main factor for many successful women not to continue on with their education is not having the financial means to carry out their dream education. Many young women do not even apply to graduate programs with this concern in mind, but the Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award opens a door for them to put their financial worries aside and reach for their aspirations. Since 2015, twelve talented young women have received this award. Through the awardees İpek Kavasoğlu, Sefane Çetin, Bahar Zafer, Beril Yalçınkaya, Kardelen Çiçek, Duygu Ekin Ayaşlı, Bihter Erbaş, Müge Önder, Nezihat Bengisu Kaynar, Serra Güllü, Esin Hacıoğlu, and Sıla Öztürk, and their accomplishments we can see the legacy of Sena Eken Schieber live on.

This award is more than just a scholarship, but is a beacon of hope for many. It breaks the barrier that holds young females back from reaching for the future they saw for themselves and provides them with a role model to follow as they embark on a new journey.

İpek Kavasoğlu is one of the first scholarship awardees and attended Duke University. İpek is a Senior Marketing Research Director at NewtonX. She oversees a team of 20 and is the most senior woman in her department. Her Goal: "As a woman economist, I'd like to be a role model to women who'd like to pursue a career in male-dominated industries, especially the tech and startup world. My personal goal is to do everything to empower women to bring us closer to gender equality in the world." Her Advice: Not giving up on pursuing dreams but being prepared to put in the work to achieve them.

Bahar Zafer is a Ph.D. student in the Political Science department at the University of Rochester. Her Goal: "As a woman, being part of Sena Eken's legacy is empowering and inspiring. The vision behind the scholarship will always encourage me to achieve more in my professional life and make a difference in people's lives. I want to encourage all female students who might be hesitant to pursue their studies in the U.S. due to financial concerns to apply for the scholarship. They will find a great understanding and support from the community of TPF." Her advice: " Pursuing a successful career as a woman in economics, you can impact decision-making in many areas and change the conditions for future generations by addressing the existing biases."

Through the Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award, these women were able to create the future they dreamed of. They paved their career path and followed in Sena Eken Schieber's footsteps as an economist, and as a changemaker. The past awardees can become role models for future applicants and women, showing them that with the right effort and determination, you can achieve anything you put your mind to. With the support of George Schieber and our community, we will open the doors for more women to apply, letting them know finances should not stand in the way of their success.

Sena Eken Schieber

Meet The 2022 Sena Eken Schieber Economics Awardees

is studying for her master's in Economics at Columbia University in New York, New York.

As someone who was introduced to Economics in the second year of college, I could have never imagined I would receive the prestigious Sena Eken Schieber scholarship to study Economics in the United States. I believe this scholarship raises awareness and encourages more women to study Economics. Sena Eken Schieber is a great role model for Turkish women. I am excited to be a future ambassador for the program while honoring Sena Eken Schieber. Without this scholarship, I would not be able to study at my dream university in the US. I cannot express my gratitude as this scholarship made my dream a reality.

SILA ÖZTÜRK

is studying for her MS in Applied Economics and Management at Cornell University in Ithica, New York.

In the face of today's growing gender gap in the field of Economics, Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award provides invaluable support to the empowerment of aspiring female economists. I am deeply grateful to Turkish Philanthropy Funds and the award committee for enabling me to take this life-changing step. I hope to honor Sena Eken Schieber's legacy by not only becoming a successful scholar but also inspiring the young women of Türkiye to strive towards their ideals, as she did," says Sıla.

KARDELEN ÇİÇEK

is a 2nd-time recipient of the award and currently studying for her Ph.D. in Economics at The American University in Washington D.C.

Young Turkish women can have impactful careers and have a promising position in society because of the Sena Eken Schieber Economics Award. It would have been impossible for me to study in the US at such prestigious universities without the support of this unique scholarship and the legacy of Sena Eken Schieber. Sena Eken Schieber has always been my role model and has inspired me to become an intellectual woman in every aspect. I will always be deeply thankful to Sena Eken Schieber and George Schieber for changing my life.

LEGACY GIVING

You can preserve your family's legacy for future generations while making our community stronger for generations to come. TPF can help you explore options to create a fundamental impact on the causes you care for through planned gifts and work with your professional advisors. There are many reasons to think of a legacy gift today:

- You can continue to support your philanthropic interests through TPF, such as improving gender equality, providing educational opportunities, making an impact on socio-economic development, or helping disaster relief funds.
- Your gift can contribute to TPF's sustainability, so it continues to provide support to the community forever.
- You can pass your passion of giving back to your heirs or, even better, lead your heirs to find their own philanthropic passions.

DONOR-ADVISED FUNDS IN YOUR ESTATE PLAN

Did you know your DAF at TPF can help you reach your legacy giving goals!

As you contemplate your estate planning and leaving a legacy, you may want to recognize and give to philanthropic causes that have made an impact on you in your life. You may want to make sure that your wishes continue after you've passed away.

- Your DAF at TPF can be an important tool to use as part of the estate plan process. Instead of naming specific individual charities as beneficiaries in your estate planning documents, you could name your DAF account as the charitable beneficiary under your will, trust, annuity, insurance contract, or retirement plan or investment account.
- FLEXIBILITY. Using a DAF in an estate plan can provide flexibility to adjust giving priorities without some of the typical costs and inconvenience associated with modifying estate planning documents or creating other charitable giving vehicles such as private foundations or supporting organizations.
- TAX BENEFITS. In general, under federal law there is an unlimited deduction for assets that are distributed to qualified charities, making contributions to a DAF a powerful tool for reducing these taxes!
- EFFICIENCY. Identifying your DAF account as a beneficiary can also increase the efficiency of settling a trust or estate because the trustee or executor has clear instructions on how to distribute certain assets in accordance with your wishes. It is much simpler for the trustee or executor to make a single distribution to your DAF than to coordinate distributions to multiple charities.
- LEGACY. Your DAF can also be used to effectively pass the gift of philanthropy on to the next generation. Using your DAF at TPF in this way can encourage family philanthropy in much the same way as a private family foundation, but with similar tax benefits and potentially lower legal and accounting costs.

MAKE A LASTING FUTURE GIFT

	YOUR GIFT	YOUR GOAL	HOW DO YOU MAKE THE GIFT	YOUR BENEFITS
Real Estate and Bargain Sales	You can retain the right to use your real estate during your lifetime while you receive an immediate tax deduction or can sell an asset to TPF for less than the fair market value and use the difference in value as your gift.	Select this method if a large portion of your personal investments has been in real estate.	Deed your property to TPF or sell it to TPF for less than its market value.	✿ Immediate income tax deduction. ✿ No cost during your lifetime. ✿ Continue to live in your home. ✿ Avoidance of capital gains tax on the value of property exceeding the sale price. ✿ Potential estate and income tax reductions to heirs.
Retirement Plans	Any retirement plan such as an IRA or a 401(k) or life insurance policy allows you to create a named fund with TPF. Name TPF as the beneficiary and your legacy lives on through the assets transferred to TPF after you pass away.	Select these assets if heirs are in a high-income tax bracket.	Name TPF as the beneficiary of the balance left after your lifetime using the plan's beneficiary form.	Make the gift from highly taxed assets and avoid double taxation of retirement assets, leaving other assets for the family.
Charitable Gift Annuities	A simple contract guarantees you a fixed income in exchange for a gift to TPF. The American Council on Gift Annuities sets annuity rates.	Combine the benefits of an immediate income tax deduction and a lifetime income stream.	Transfer assets to TPF and start receiving fixed payments for life immediately.	✿ Fixed income for you or your loved ones beginning at a set date. ✿ Immediate income tax deduction. ✿ Partial tax-free income. ✿ Partial avoidance of capital gains tax in gifts of appreciated assets. ✿ Removal of assets from the taxable estate.
Charitable Remainder Trust	You can transfer cash and assets to an irrevocable trust and may receive income for life or a certain term of years. The remainder passes to TPF, creating a permanent fund in your name.	Supplement your retirement income while planning a lasting future gift.	Create a charitable trust that pays fixed or variable income for a specific term of years; thereafter the balance is given to you or to loved ones.	✿ May reduce the future taxable estate. ✿ Retain control of trust assets.
Charitable Lead Trust	Set up a trust that generates dividends. Throughout the term of the trust, earned dividends go to TPF. The remaining assets go to your heirs, tax-free, on the trust's appreciation.	Support your favorite charity without permanently giving up the assets you have and transfer wealth to future generations.	Transfer assets to a trust that makes gift payments to TPF for a term of years.	✿ No impact on assets during lifetime. ✿ Estate tax reduction. ✿ Tax-free assets for your heirs. ✿ No estate or gift taxes on the growth of assets. ✿ Retention of property in the family often with reduced estate or gift taxes.
Charitable Bequests	A bequest in your will or trust can direct specific assets to fund or add to an existing fund.	Support your causes easily today without impacting your financial security.	Provide in your will or living trust for a gift to be made to TPF or your choice of charity/cause after your lifetime.	✿ You can reduce your taxable estate and create a charitable legacy. ✿ No impact on assets during the lifetime.

FULFILLING ZEHRA TAŞMAN'S LEGACY BY EMPOWERING WOMEN

The Zehra Taşman Women and Education Support Program

Zehra Taşman Women and Education Support Program is harnessing the power of mentoring, role models, internships and community to encourage young women to take on leadership positions, and explore their own powers.

Women are one of the most powerful investments we can make in building a better future. Despite ongoing initiatives designed to target major issues like education inequality, access to health care, job creation and equal pay, women continued to face notable and measurable disadvantages, and equal pay. Sobering statistics not just in Türkiye but all around the world provides the impetus for change. They illustrate the needs that continue to present themselves, and the challenges that remain despite more improvements over the past three decades.

Imagine you are a girl born in Türkiye in the early 1900s.

From childhood, you face hurdles that hinder your education, development and advancement. Because your family has limited resources or certain cultural, and advancement beliefs, when it's time for your parents to decide if you continue your education, they pick your brother instead of you.

This is how women remain excluded—from education, the formal economy, banking, equal rights. Despite working tirelessly, women face hurdle after hurdle, amplified by their geography and generational norms.

Without opportunities to break free from this cycle, women are trapped in a life that they may not have ever chosen—a life that disadvantages not only themselves, but their families and their communities, too.

Zehra Taşman's story is a similar one. She wasn't allowed to attend Teachers College even though she was admitted because she was a girl. That ache stayed with Zehra all her life. Yet, she worked to further missed opportunity into a better future for her children. Zehra Taşman was the mother of three children, including one of TPF's Founders, Haldun Tashman. She lived her life with a deep longing for getting an education. Yet, she made sure her children received the best education possible. Her daughter, became a successful ophthalmologist, and her sons inspiring entrepreneurs in the U.S. Now, Zehra Hanim's legacy lives with a program empowering young women in Bolu through Bolu Community Foundation so young women have the power to control their own lives, both within and outside the home, and have access to opportunities and resources that will enable them to take their equal place in society.

Fourteen young women joined the program in its first year. Yet, the benefits of the program have already reached more than just the women it has supported - nearly 100 individuals involved in bringing the program to life, from teachers and speakers to specialized program leaders. This program embodies a true inspiration for the community in Bolu and brings front a promising future for many in the region.

Selin Bengisu, one of the program's awardees, noted how the program was an eye-opener for her. "I learned that women need to be more forthcoming, especially in leadership and entrepreneurship. The program allowed me the opportunity to meet skilled professionals and instructors, and learn from them. Thanks to my mentor, I spent a wonderful year planning my future and improving my foreign language skills. Through our internship program, I gained experience that has contributed to my professional development. I am proud to be a part of this not only empowering but also inspiring program," she stated.

The young women who were a part of the program this year will go on to become mentors for the young women selected next year, and each year the mentorship program will grow, developing an even larger community. Öznur Akkaya, General Manager of Bolu Community Foundation believes that this is one of the best parts of the program - the supportive and resourceful community it is creating in Bolu.

A DONOR'S PASSION FOR MINDFULNESS AND CARE FOR A COMMUNITY OF WOMEN

A Giving Story of Seray İncoğlu

In today's world, youth face many stressful moments, but how they react to them can make all the difference. A new study done by the Center for Education Policy Research at Harvard University, MIT, and Transforming Education suggests that mindfulness education — lessons on techniques to calm the mind and body — can reduce the negative effects of stress and increase students' ability to stay engaged, helping them stay on track academically and avoid behavior problems. TPF donor, Seray Incoğlu, first-handedly experienced the difference mindfulness practice can make in one's life. Seray, a mother of two and a very successful professional in finance, was introduced to mindfulness later in life. "As soon as I started to practice it, my life completely changed – it was as if a light switch had turned on in my head. I wish I had learned about mindfulness at a younger age. Practicing mindfulness has countless benefits, including decreasing depression, anxiety, and stress and improving overall well-being, happiness, and self-love," she stated. "Mindfulness practice teaches us to focus on the present without judgment. It teaches us to weather the daily pressures of life by focusing on and controlling our own thoughts and actions today. It also reminds us that we all have limitless potential. I knew having this knowledge could change many people's lives, especially those who are already facing disadvantages in their life," added Seray.

Seray's personal philanthropic journey with TPF started when she reached out to get advice on supporting education in Türkiye. "I was brought up in a household where education was extremely important. My father and mother were great mentors in this regard. Education is one of the strongest instruments for many different facets of life – education promotes self-love, respect, and awareness; it reduces poverty improves gender equality, and endorses world peace." Seray knew she wanted to support causes working in this area in Türkiye but was unsure where to start. Conversations with TPF evolved into a place where she dived deeper into what her real passion was. She wanted to make quality education available to all, but "was that all?" she found herself questioning. The outcome of her pursuit through conversations with TPF was the establishment of a pilot mindfulness program with Çağdaş Yaşamı Destekleme Derneği (ÇYDD) Şile branch.

As Seray searched for ways to have the most impact on a young person's life through education, she found herself looking for a solution involving introducing mindfulness. Seray believes that the traditional education system lacks the resources to provide adequate psychological and mental support or teach the proper coping mechanisms. "Life is truly beautiful, but it can certainly be a very busy, chaotic at times, and sometimes cruel. It can be even harder for kids to understand and cope with all of these issues that we face in everyday life. Financial distress, family trauma, and societal pressures can lead to depression in many kids and teens. Depression numbers in teens are rising at a staggering rate. Roughly 20 percent of all teens experience depression before adulthood. And, unfortunately, severe depression can lead to suicide. Every 100 minutes, a teen takes his/her life." "That is just not acceptable," Seray believed, so she decided to make a difference in that area.

ÇYDD's pilot project supports young women aged 13-17 who are already ÇYDD scholarship recipients by training them on mindfulness practices. The "Stay in the Moment" program launched in January 2022 in Şile, İstanbul, as a 10-week, 20-hour program. Young women practiced mindfulness to help them manage their emotions in their daily lives. They learned the tools needed to stay calm, trust themselves, respond without reacting, and stop living in constant worry. Practicing mindfulness helped those young women notice their emotions and shift to more neutral thinking, like how their breath feels as they inhale and exhale. One program attendee said, "Learning to be mindful helped me manage my emotions and helped me tackle challenges. I know I can slow down my thoughts and focus on the present now. I am still working on responding without reacting, but I also understand that even being aware of that is a big step."

What started as a hope for 'young women in Türkiye to unlock their own power within and see that they truly are limitless' transformed into a project with the guidance of TPF for Seray. Seray says, "TPF is a great platform where like-minded individuals can unite to share resources and ideas on giving back." As TPF worked with Seray to find a project that is both meaningful to her and could have a long-term impact, no one thought of an outcome such as the mindfulness program. Yet, once again, we have seen that our donors' passion for giving and care for the community, combined with our philanthropic expertise, make us an incredible team. And, our greatest impact is made possible through our generous donors' contributions. Thank you, Seray, for being an inspiration not only to us but to many young women in Türkiye.

COLLABORATING FOR HIGH IMPACT

Many of us started the year with a sense of optimism that the COVID-19 pandemic will end soon. Yet, the virus proved resilient, and our grantmaking continued to meet the urgent needs created by the ongoing pandemic. At the same time, TPF did what we always do: keep a focus on our community's long-term challenges as we tackle short-term crises.

TPF's Philanthrophic Agenda

Drawn from TPF giving patterns, our philanthropic agenda reflects the intersection of our donors' interests and the needs of our communities in Türkiye and in the U.S.

1. EQUALITY and EQUITY in EDUCATION.
Equality and equity in the education system are integral to our communities' well-being, both socially and economically. TPF makes significant investments to expand and scale innovative, high-quality education to benefit all students.

2. HEALTH INNOVATIONS.
The quality and accessibility of health services are critically important to our shared quality of life. TPF invests in hospitals and medical centers and provides funding for healthcare.

3. DISASTER RELIEF.
Safe and stable neighborhoods are the building blocks of a healthy community especially. Investments in this area include affordable housing, economic success initiatives after disasters, basic needs for vulnerable populations, and programs that rebuild strong communities for all ages.

4. ENVIRONMENT & SUSTAINABILITY.
TPF is forming partnerships that protect, preserve, and responsibly manage our communities' natural resources in both urban and rural areas.

5. ARTS & CULTURE.
A thriving arts scene and diverse cultural offerings bring enjoyment to communities and are important drivers of our economy. TPF collaborates with partners to support a vibrant arts and culture community that celebrates our rich history and diversity and brings valuable learning experiences to children and adults.

6. SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.
TPF focuses on strategic interventions to improve the quality of economic and social opportunities currently available to ensure that the economically disadvantaged in rural and urban areas have adequate resources to sustain themselves. Accordingly, our programs focus on projects that address the underlying social conditions that systematically deny the opportunities people need to become productive.

7. GENDER EQUALITY.
TPF addresses socially determined gender inequalities, which are deeply rooted in our society's attitudes, institutions, and market forces. We recognize that achieving results entails closing the gender gaps in education, and economic opportunities and enhancing women's voice – the ability to be heard and make choices about their own lives. And, all of these efforts require engaging men and boys.

Mehmet Kırdar, Elif Uras, and The Bilimers

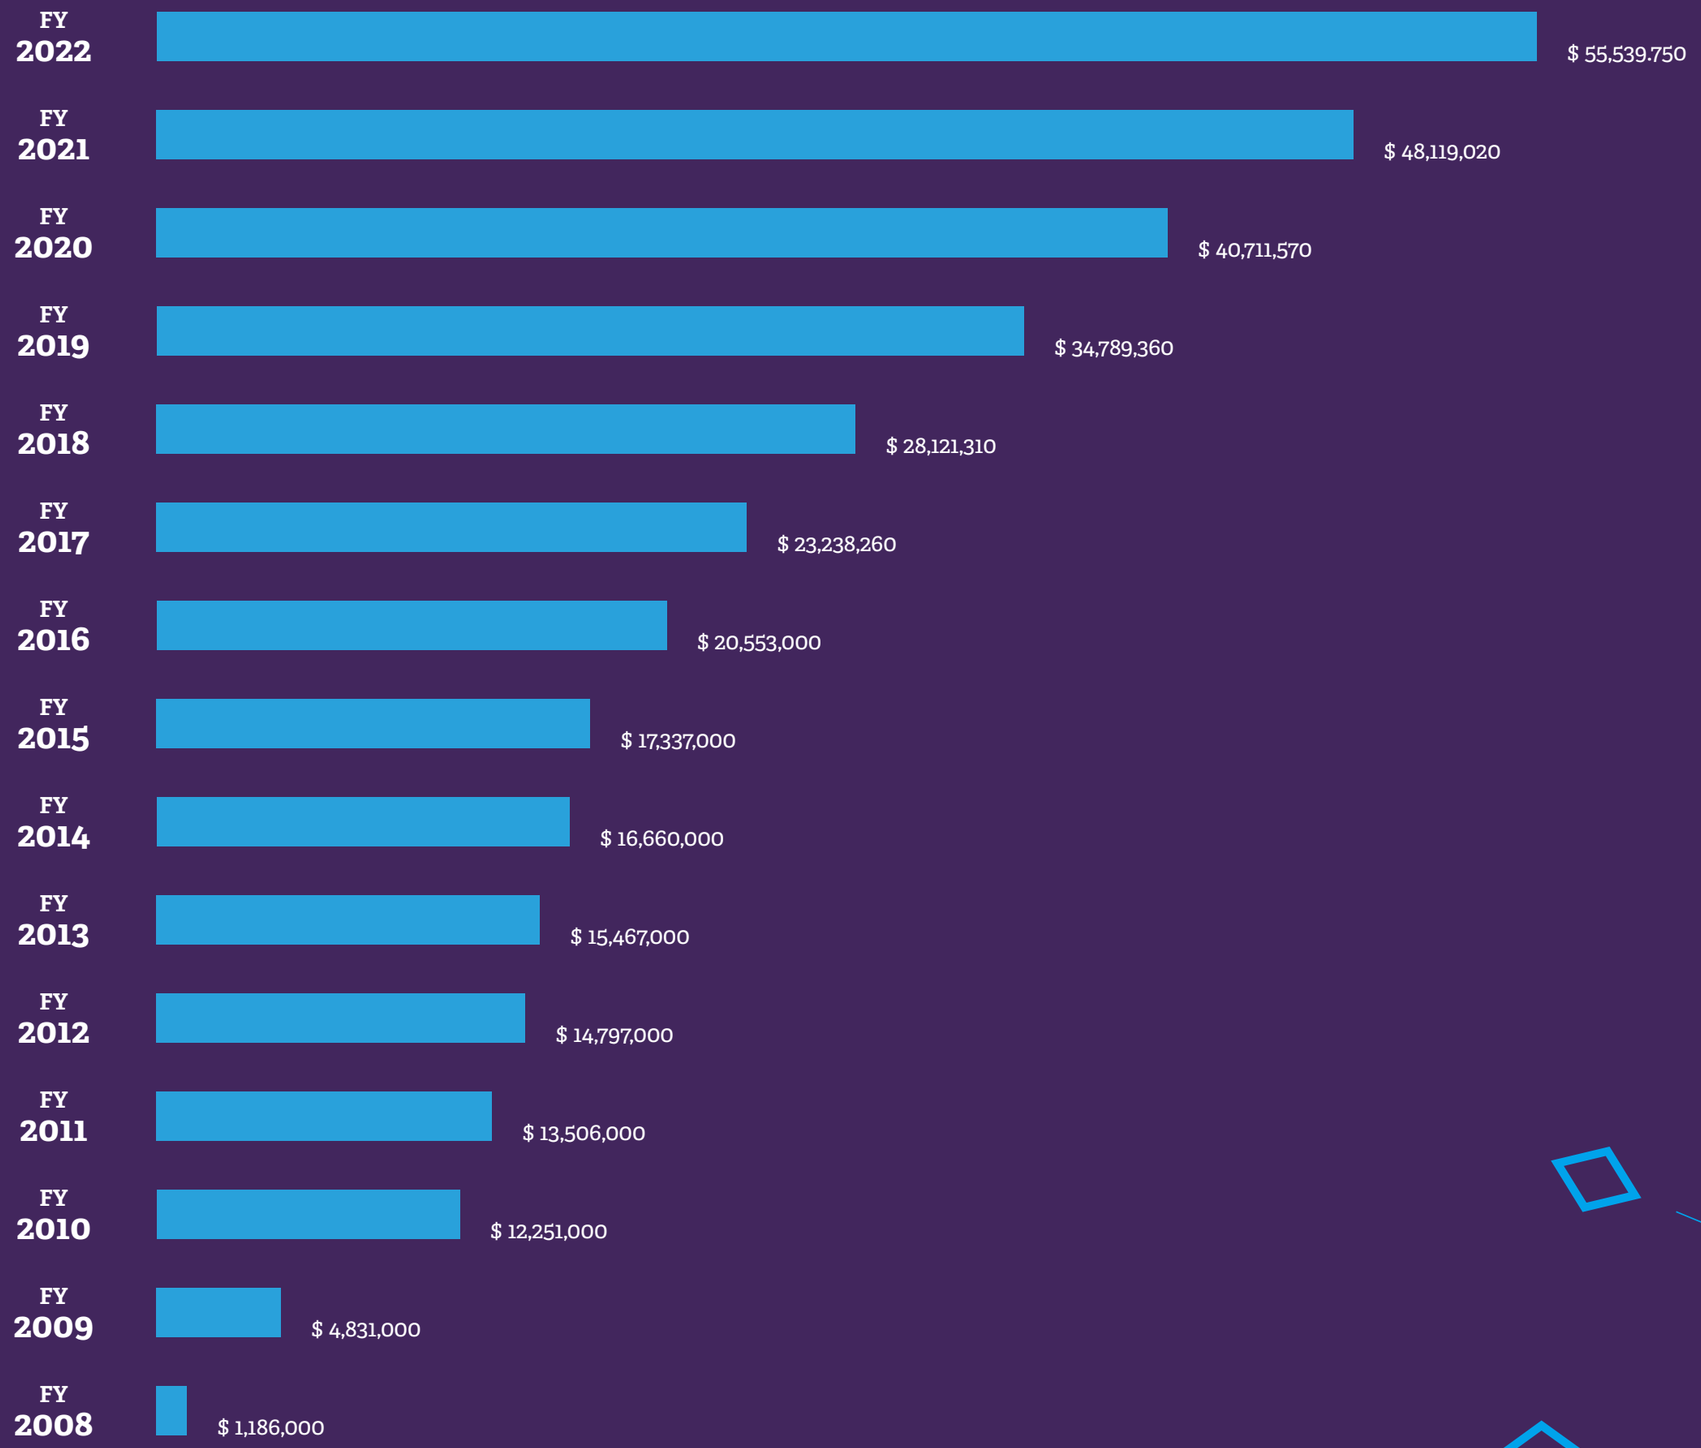

Supporting Turkish Contemporary Art in NY's Turkish House

Zeynep and Evren Bilimer believe that art gives voice to a culture. Through art we can promote cross cultural exchanges, build bridges between communities and break down barriers. Their gift of three unique sculptures of Elif Uras to the Turkish House (Türkevi) through TPF was made to do just that. "This is a step to give more visibility to Turkish art and artists on the world scene," said Zeynep in her speech during the opening reception. Their gift will definitely open Turkish contemporary art and artists to global exposure.

VOICES OF PARTNERS

Voices of Partners began as an alternative to in-person gatherings amidst the Covid-19 pandemic but has become much more. The program strengthens our community's bond with our valuable partners on the field. The program, originally hosted by Elmira Bayraslı, and now hosted by Didem Altop, opens the floor for live 1:1 conversations with members of TPF partner organizations. During these conversations, we share the impact and meaningful work our partners do and how TPF and our community add to making their work possible. Voices of Partners airs monthly with a different partner organization each month. We are proud to stand behind these partners and look forward to continuing to bring their experiences and voices to our communities worldwide.

FY22 VOICES OF PARTNERS:

The 2021-22 Sena Eken Schieber Economics Awardees
Mother Child Education Foundation (AÇEV)

TOHUM Autism Foundation
Community Volunteers Foundation (TOG)
Voices of Partners Environment and Marine Life Special

Because of the pandemic, some other social issues had taken a snowball effect. Especially deep poverty and hunger stood out, as a very basic problem and a basic human rights issue. We realized that a big portion of the population doesn't reach the most basic needs, such as food and housing. Poverty leads to deeper poverty."

- Füsun Eczacıbaşı speaking on Voices of Partners with Cemre Fund held on October 27th, 2021.

STORY-TIME WITH TPF

Story-time with TPF has evolved into a great way for partners and young volunteers to get involved with TPF and advocate for literacy and storytelling across our Turkish-American community.

Funds raised enabled 67 extraordinary students get closer to their dreams of becoming scientists, architects, artists, and more.

WILDFIRE RELIEF FUND

Coming Together to Support our Communities in Need

People in Türkiye battle wildfires on an ongoing basis. Small fires burn across the country throughout the summer season. The start of large fires in the summer of 2021 in highly populated areas at the same time has tightened the resources to respond. Strong winds have caused the fires to spread quickly, prompting mass evacuations in many areas. TPF's partners at Afet Platformu followed the developments closely and not only took part in putting out the fires but also prepared to respond to survivors' immediate needs as soon as the fires had been taken under control.

All donations to this fund supported wildfire relief and recovery efforts in Türkiye. We monitored the impact on affected communities and worked with partners at Afet Platformu to allocate funds to the most needed areas. Initially, the fund helped first responders put out fires and meet survivors' immediate needs for food, fuel, clean water, medicine, and shelter. As needs emerged, we supported longer-term recovery efforts run by local, vetted partner organizations in the impacted areas.

TPF Wildfire Relief Fund showed us that our community is way beyond the US and Türkiye. We received thousands of donations from all over the world, with notes of hope and good wishes. Our donors' generous and immediate support to TPF's Wildfire Relief Fund enabled us to provide food, water, shelter, livelihoods, and psychosocial support to people and animals in need. Once again, we witnessed that the power of community could heal the wounds of all affected lives.

FOR ATTORNEYS AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS

Let us help you help your clients

YOUR CHARITABLE PARTNER

For 15 years, we have been a trusted partner to lawyers and professional advisors, helping their clients make a charitable impact. We ensure their philanthropic priorities withstand the test of time and adapt to meet future challenges. TPF is the right choice for thousands of generous Turkish-Americans because of our staff of experts, range of giving options, capacity to accept complicated assets, knowledge of community needs, and efficient management.

We offer the tax benefits of giving to a public charity, customizable charitable solutions, and access to grantmaking professionals, philanthropic advisors, and investment services.

We can help you help your clients as they decide what causes are important to them, how they want to structure their giving, and whether they want to involve family members. For those looking to minimize overhead and maximize charitable impact, a fund in TPF can be a sound alternative to a private foundation. If your client already has a foundation that they are thinking of winding down, they might consider moving the assets to a charitable fund in TPF. Your client can continue to drive the grantmaking during their lifetime, and we can carry on their legacy after they are gone. The IRS has classified us as "tax-exempt" under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code; as a "publicly supported" organization under Section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi); "not a private foundation" under Section 509(a)(1); and as a "community trust" under Treas. Reg. Sections 1.170A-9(e)(10) and (11). This status ensures donors the maximum tax benefit allowed by law.

CREATING A FUND

TPF is a Delaware not-for-profit corporation. The assets of a fund with TPF are managed by outside money managers and overseen by our staff and Investment Committee. Call or visit our website for a copy of our Certificate of Incorporation and bylaws.

ESTATE PLANNING

During the estate planning process, clients often involve their lawyer or financial advisor to help them shape their charitable giving, but ultimately clients need to decide what causes are important to them, how they want to structure their giving, and whether they want to involve family members. It can be a sensitive and complicated process, but Turkish Philanthropy Funds is uniquely suited to help you and your clients successfully navigate it.

CONTACT US TO DISCUSS YOUR CLIENT'S CHARITABLE LEGACY.

We can provide information about our fund types, suggested wording to help draft the gift instrument, and more.

FINANCIAL STEWARDSHIP

Turkish Philanthropy Funds takes great pride in providing clear, transparent information about our investment management and performance, financial position, and administrative fees.

Our board of directors has developed investment policies and guidelines that provide for prudent asset management. An Investment Committee, composed of board members and volunteer experts in the investment field, oversees the investment activities of TPF.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

Effective and strategic investment of assets is one of our key responsibilities. Turkish Philanthropy Funds' investment philosophy is to invest charitable funds prudently that support both growth and grantmaking. TPFs investment portfolio comprises diversified pools managed by specialized investment managers.

Fees

Our administrative fee on your investment is straightforward, all-inclusive, and drives higher returns. Each Fund is subject to an annual charitable administrative fee to cover DAF operating expenses such as grantmaking, recordkeeping, annual audits, tax filing, quarterly statements, and other legal and fiscal responsibilities.
We follow your instructions and execute your philanthropic needs. We closely manage costs to minimize these fees and benchmark them against industry averages to ensure competitiveness. Fees also keep us on track to ensure that we provide the highest quality service to our donors. In addition, Fund accounts are charged relevant investment management fees by MS GIFT.

SMART PHILANTHROPY:

IMPACT investing to power social change

For many years, philanthropy and investing have been thought of as separate disciplines–one championing social change, the other financial gain. The idea that the two approaches could be integrated into the same deals —essentially delivering a financial return while doing good—struck most philanthropists and investors as far-fetched. Not anymore.

Up until this year, at TPF, we have offered socially responsible portfolio options to TPF's DAF funder holders only. These portfolios are invested in funds that are screened for a wide variety of environmental, social, and governance factors and whose managers complete some degree of shareholder activism with regard to their underlying portfolio companies. This year, we have taken a step forward and have invested 20 percent of TPF's endowment in socially responsible portfolios. We believe social impact investments are opportunities that align social good with a financial return to bring about social change. We believe that social impact investing:

- is a powerful tool for leveraging philanthropic dollars. Investment returns can be reused over and over again to compound the impact.
- allows our donors greater freedom and flexibility to test innovative ways to achieve a financial return as they seek to impact and grow their funds

Our long-term social impact investment objective is to achieve a meaningful impact that benefits the community's social health and preserves or recycles capital while achieving a positive real return on loans and investments.

With our social impact investing tools and numerous partnerships, TPF firmly believes that we must go beyond grantmaking to affect the social change we hope to see in our communities. Typically, our social impact investments focus on educational opportunities, green energy, health care, job creation, neighborhood revitalization, social services, technology, and workforce development.
